Wild Atlantic Way Presentation

Two interesting talks for businesses took place on Tuesday evening in Sneem Hotel. The first was a presentation by Declan Murphy from Failte Ireland on how to interact and engage with the Wild Atlantic Way to maximize its benefits to Sneem. Everybody who has a smartphone should download the free Wild Atlantic Way app. Tourism-related businesses should ensure their latest information is on the app. This can be done by going onto www.failteireland.ie - Domestic Sales - Managing your listings and either Get a new listing or Update your listing.

Twitter Workshop

The second talk was "Grow Your Brand with Twitter" by Chris McGillicuddy from The Brand Geeks in Killorglin. This was organised by the "Working in Sneem" initiative. Chris introduced us to the world of twitter and demonstrated how powerful its reach is. We were all encouraged to set up a twitter account if we haven't already got one and start tweeting about Sneem. Chris suggested we should come up with a hashtag for Sneem - suggestions included #supersneem; #sexysneem; #seesneem; #celebratesneem. If anybody has ideas/suggestions, please email them to sneemevents@gmail.com.

Tagline for Sneem: We are also looking for a tagline for Sneem to use on our new mobile website - any ideas?

Defibrillator Training

With profits from the sale of the Sneem Social History Book, 'Bridging Memories' its committee has recently purchased two defibrillators for the benefit of the community. They are due to be placed in Tahilla and Glenlough and are presently being held by Geraldine McCarthy and by Danny Breen.

Training

A training course in the use of the defibrillators and also CPR is being organised. Accordingly volunteers are being sought for a four hour training course which can be arranged for either a Saturday morning or a weekday evening and the cost will be covered. The acquisition of these skills could quite possibly save somebody's life. Both young (18+) and not so young are urged to volunteer.

Volunteering

To register for the free training course, please supply your details below and leave them into Sneem Resource Centre, North Square. Sneem. Phone 064-6645545.

Alternatively you can contact Tim O'Sullivan, South Gerah, on 086-8559283.

It is hoped to organise the training as soon as possible.

Sir Ernest Shackleton from Kildare was among history's great explorers and became a legend on four epic voyages of discovery to the Antarctic a century ago. School League Final

St. Michael's National School recently held their greatly anticipated School League Final on Thursday 18th June. Congratulations to Leah Sugrue and her winning team.

Thank you to Omer Tanik for the pictures.

Lucie's School of Piano

Students of Lucie's School of Piano had their annual concert in The Church of Transfiguration on 19th of June. The turn out was great, it seems like piano is getting very popular in the area! Not just in Sneem, as we had pupils from Castlecove, also Kenmare and even from as far as Tuosist! All the performances were excellent and very professional! Lets mention just a few of our Sneem pianists - Stephanie Burns who played Beethoven's sonata, her little brother Colm Ryan and Nora Grosse. From Castlecove we had Grace Turner, Myfanwy Humphreys and Gerry Ligtenberg who all shone in four hands piano with Lucie. Lucie played Rhapsody in blue from George Gerschwin at the very finale.

Thanks to all who took part and of course to all who came and supported all the musicians, they raised 303 euros and 27 cents for the Nepalese earthquake appeal Thank you!
